J.O.L.T.
Involvement Committee Descriptions

Involvement Committees are groups that help plan and conduct special parts of the J.O.L.T. Leadership experience. Campers learn and demonstrate leadership skills using the “experiential learning model” and the 4-H slogan - “Learn by Doing”. Each camper (youth and adults) are requested to select their 1st, 2nd and 3rd choice.

News and Views: Members develop their journalism, writing and photography skills by creating a newsletter, capturing photos and involving participants in short interviews.
(Writers, artists,”techies”, photographers, journalists & the organized needed here!)

Video Production: Members will develop and edit a 5-10 minute video advertisement by capturing images of events during camp and incorporating them into a presentation. The video will be shown at the end of camp to the campers, used for promotional purposes, and published on youtube.com.
(“techies”, future marketeers, Spielbergs and Lucas’ wanted)

Drama and Theatrics: Actors and Actresses, Jokers and Clowns gather round! If you feel that the boundaries of reality are limiting your dreams, you probably can act. Members will be provided with a one act play and materials to design props, costumes and sets, create sound effects, and whatever else you and your producer think of to act out the play you have been given. (Lovers of theater, acting, and having fun are encouraged here!)

Print Promotion: If you’re creative, look this way! This IC will focus on your creative ability to bring back campers, encourage support from companies, and spread the word to the counties about what J.O.L.T.’s focus and purpose is. The IC will also be responsible for the campers’ photo collage, drafting a press release for the J.O.L.T.’ers local newspaper.
(Creative writers, flare for formatting, news photographers, aspiring journalists, salesmen.)

Playfaire: Wanna have a great time? Come learn how to play fun and exciting new games while developing and enhancing your leadership skills! If you have a lot of positive energy, this is the involvement committee for you. Committee members learn, adapt, organize & teach recreational programming that highlights an assortment of new, fun games and activities. (Highly active and requires aptitude for fun, flexibility and teaching!)

Teen Beat: Would you like to get a message across to your peers? Are there important teen issues you believe need to be addressed? If so, then the Teen Beat Involvement Committee is for you. Members of this IC will work hard to create a presentation/forum that will be presented to the campers to give them tools to help them succeed in the future. (Organized, outspoken leaders with something to say encouraged here!)

Community Service: Do you enjoy helping others? This involvement committee promotes community outreach through community service projects. Be involved in actions that will create positive change and build the community. Throughout the week you will develop projects that will be presented as camp wide community service projects. This rewarding experience will allow you to develop ideas for projects to bring back to your organizations. (Caring individuals, people who want to make a difference in the world and the community in which they live)

Improv/debate: Improvisation is spontaneous performance. In this IC, we will learn skills that help you think on your feet and react quickly to changing circumstances. During the week we will also learn the proper procedure for organized debate. We will incorporate our improvisation with our debate skills to create a strong argument in any situation. Later in the week, we will present our new skills to the entire camp. (Theatrical campers, thespians, engaged participants, and quick thinkers)

Broadcasting: Campers will develop journalism, writing and speaking skills in the broadcasting IC by individually creating a podcast to be sent out to all the campers every week after JOLT is over. Join this IC and carry on the legacy of JOLT. (Writers, interviewers, journalists & the organized needed here!)
